

Steven Meyer – Solo Fingerstyle Guitar – PR Kit

Steven Meyer is a solo guitarist performing in the Madison, WI area whose repertoire is a creative blend of different music genres that are connected by history and musical styles.

Can't decide if you want to listen to J. S. Bach or Sir Elton, Scotland or Spain, "Blackbird" or "Pipeline"? Steven's fingerstyle acoustic guitar music is a romantic and sophisticated musical adventure that explores classical, pop, world and jazz. Steven has over 1,000 solo guitar performances under his belt, including recent concerts at the Stoughton Opera House and Sunday Afternoon Live at the UW Chazen Museum. His solo fingerstyle repertoire is eclectic, mesmerizing, full of passion, and always includes head-turning solo guitar arrangements of familiar tunes.

Steven Meyer recently released his third solo guitar album: "Solo Guitar Arenas". As the title implies, the musical genres featured on "Solo Guitar Arenas" include concert level classical pieces, Latin fusion, popular and traditional tunes, plus Steven's original guitar compositions.

Steven released his second album "Guitar Au Naturel", in 2018. On "Guitar Au Naturel", Meyer puts his unique approach on well-known tunes such as "Blue Eyes," "Blackbird," "Pipeline" and "Harlem Nocturne," plus classical pieces by J.S. Bach. Steven released his first album, "Choice Selections for Solo Guitar" in 2005.

Steven Meyer "Solo Guitar Arenas", "Guitar Au Naturel" & "Choice Selections for Solo Guitar" on Amazon.com; Apple iTunes; Spotify; Napster and more.

Steven's extensive musical background includes UW-Wisconsin Milwaukee, guitar studies with many notable guitar instructors, years of rigorous sideman work, and more than a thousand solo performances.
